From the President

Hello Colleagues,

Recently the board shared information in their meeting on three questions:

- 1) What experience have you had with staff surveys on hybrid work environments?
- 2) What processes exist for presidential performance evaluations?
- 3) Will you incorporate travel for reproductive services in your benefit plans?

The immediate responses were so helpful – a major benefit of ARU-HRI membership.

Bring your questions and experiences to our first in-person meeting in three years – November 7-9, 2022 in Chicago. Registration is available on our website: aru-hrinstitute.org.

Announcements will shortly be made about our next learning session with invited CHROs from industries other than higher education. Hold September 30! Leadership partners will also convene on Zoom before the annual conference.

Finally, the site selection process for the 2024 annual conference has begun. Let me know your suggestions.

Best wishes to all,
Laurita

JAMI PAINTER

Jami Painter, Senior Associate Vice President and Chief Human Resources Officer at the University of Illinois System, to Serve as Chair-Elect on CUPA-HR Board of Directors

Jami Painter, senior associate vice president and chief HR officer at the University of Illinois System, has been selected to serve as chair-elect of the board of directors of the College and University Professional Association for Human Resources (CUPA-HR) for the 2022-23 fiscal year. She serves as chair of the board during the 2023-24 fiscal year.

Painter has served as an at-large member of the CUPA-HR national board since 2019 and as a member of CUPA-HR's Learning and Professional Development Committee where she served as chair for the past year. Prior to serving on the national board, Painter was an at-large member of the CUPA-HR Illinois Chapter board.

For the last 21 years, Painter has served in a human resources role that required leadership for system-wide committee facilitation and workgroups with varying audiences, cultures, priorities and interests. She also brings a wealth of experience from her eight years in HR outside of higher ed and her time serving as chair, vice president and president for several local and state-wide organizations.

Painter shares, "HR leaders have a unique opportunity, now more than ever, to be a catalyst for positive change as we assist our institutions with the transition to a post-pandemic work environment and culture. I am honored to serve in this role for CUPA HR to help provide the resources and expertise for HR leaders as we navigate this change together."

Congratulations, Jamie!

Tina Le-Phan is now our Conference and Events Liaison with CUPA-HR

Tina Le-Phan is the Event Operations Coordinator at CUPA-HR. She manages timelines, event databases, event registration, speaker coordination, and reporting for all CUPA-HR conferences and events. She has been with CUPA-HR for 3 years and served as a member representative of the Member Service and Engagement team before stepping into her current role. Prior to joining CUPA-HR, she worked extensively within the hospitality industry garnering a wide-range knowledge of hotel operations, group rooms sales strategy, and events & catering coordination. She holds a B.A. in interdisciplinary studies from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville.

Transitions

You will be missed, thank you for your service in ARU-HRI. Best wishes in your next venture.
